At Opus Theatre Works, LLC we are committed to quality performances while emphasizing teamwork, responsibility, dedication, accountability, poise and a greater sense of self in each of our students.

Students are involved in an effort that gives them a lifetime experience of camaraderie, and commitment. By showcasing themselves to their community, they learn how to expect and meet high standards for themselves, follow direction and deliver quality work. They become discerning individuals and whole people. These lifetime skills extend far beyond their middle school years. The experience has a ripple effect that reaches to the present community and to their future selves.

Duration:

- One Day-a-week. One Saturday-a-month.
- 16-18 weeks total. September – February
- 1 Tech Week/Dress Week
- 1 Weekend of shows. Three shows over one weekend.

Staffing: Three Masters Teachers and one Assistant Teacher.

Three Areas of Focus:

Artistic Perception: Students process, analyze, and respond to sensory information through the language and skills unique to theatre. Students observe their environment and respond, using elements of theatre. Students, through observation and participation, begin to identify and use the vocabulary of theatre, words such as; theme, mood, vocal projection, ensemble, rehearsal, dress rehearsal, run through, and stage crew are used to describe the theatrical experiences. Students, by observing their environment, begin to comprehend and identify elements within a script, for example foreshadowing. Students will also grow to identify and analyze recurring themes and patterns.

Creative Expression: Students who perform and participate in theatre learn to apply process and skills in acting and directing. The students' theatrical skills begin to develop as they learn to create character by using effective vocal expression and facial expression. Students perform character-based improvisations, pantomimes, or monologues, using voice, blocking and gesture to enhance meaning.

Connection: Students apply what they learn in theatre across all subject areas. They develop competencies and creative skills in problem solving, communications, and time management that contribute to learning.
